Reflecting

When the Civil Rights Movement began, leaders knew that education was knowledge, and that knowledge was power. In order for the black race to gain equality, they would have to have a foundation solid enough to stand on. That foundation would be education.

I am so grateful to be in a time when education is so freely offered – never do I take this for granted. Many years ago, blacks were not offered such a chance, many were slaves. They worked long, hard, blistering hours in the sun or extreme cold for their owners without pay. They wanted something better. They wanted to be free and stand on their own by being educated. They wanted to pass that same education on to the future generation.

I am part of that future generation. Even though many of my ancestors never got a chance to go to school and to be educated, I however, was given that opportunity. An opportunity which has changed my life, and will be the stairs on my ladder to success.

Being a student at Coahoma Community College has been one of the greatest experiences I have ever had. Being on a college campus, and knowing that because I am there, I will receive a degree, is something that has given me supreme satisfaction. I like knowing that I am a “good” statistic and will benefit the world. I deeply appreciate Coahoma’s staff and faculty’s warm kindness and generosity while I have been a student, and for always going above and beyond the call of duty to assist me with any endeavor or task that I desired to do. To my ancestors who sacrificed and gave their lives, I thank you.

by Crystal Grose

I received my high school diploma from Gentry High School in 1977, a time in which it was no longer enough, I needed a college degree but, I did not enter college. Instead I started a family and work was a priority, it was a must. As the years past, my wife would always pressure me to go to college, but we had six children and I had become a minister and I just couldn't see it. But, after raising the children, losing the jobs, and overcoming cancer I am working on attaining my college degree, starting right here on the banks of Mackey Lake which snakes through the Tiger Nation on the campus of Coahoma Community College just outside Clarksdale, Mississippi. And all the faces are smiling.

by Eugene Anderson

Looking back on my life I remember growing up in the 1960s on the banks of Indian Bayou where it snaked through Billups Plantation just outside Indianola, Mississippi. I remember my older sister reading letters for the "old people," letters they had received from loved ones out of town. She would then write a response for them. These elders and my parents all expressed a hope for my generation to get our high school diplomas. I remember the ugliness of the Civil Rights movement as I took my first bus ride to school. There were angry White people lining the streets shouting obscenities, shaking homemade signs, and "flipping the bird" at us as we entered Indianola. I couldn't read, but these people's actions scared me and confused me. A few blocks later there was a crowd of older Black people just like the ones my sister read for, they too had homemade signs, but they had smiling faces, and gentle waves. These people's actions calmed my fears.

Ladysmith Black Mambazo

The Spiritual Alchemists

For over forty years, the voices of Ladysmith Black Mambazo have married the intricate rhythms, and harmonies of their native South African musical traditions to the sounds and sentiments of Christian gospel music. The result is a musical and spiritual alchemy that has touched a worldwide audience representing every corner of the religious, cultural and ethnic landscape. Assembled in the early 1960s, in Durban, South Africa, by Joseph Shabalala (still currently leading the group)- then a young a young farm turned factory worker- Joseph took the Ladysmith Black mambazo- Ladysmith being the name of Shabalala's rural hometown; Black being a reference to oxen, the strongest of all farm animals; and Mambazo being the Zulu word for axe, a symbol of the group's ability to "chop down" any singing rival who might challenge them. Their collective voices were so tight and their harmonies so polished that they were eventually banned from competitions- although they were welcomed to participate strictly as entertainers.

The group consists of Joseph Shabalala, Msizi Shabalala, Thulani Shabalala, Sibon Shabalala, Thami Shabalala, Abe Mazibuko, Russel Mthembu, and Nganee Dlamini.

This Lyceum program was enjoyed by all in attendance.

The group performed in the Pinnacle
January 30, 2011.
